BIG CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT NOW IS CERTAIN

President Harding To Call Conference
Of Leading Allied Powers To Stop War.

Washington, July 11.—A disarmament conference in Washington was regarded as certain today.

Following an informal query to England, Japan, France and Italy asking whether they would be willing to enter such a conference, Secretary Hughes was preparing official invitations to be dispatched upon receipt of word that they are acceptable.

Great Britain and Japan, through public statements of their government leaders, already have bound themselves to join in a disarmament conference, if the United States would call it.

Following are the salient points of President Harding's offer to call a disarmament conference:

The great powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, which, with the United States, were known as the "principal allied and associated powers," are to be invited to the disarmament conference.

The conference is to "be held in Washington at a time to be mutually agreed upon."

The question of limitation of armament has a close relation to Pacific and far eastern problems, and the president has suggested the powers should undertake, in connection with this conference, "consideration of all matters bearing upon their solution with a view to reaching a common understanding with respect to principles and policies in the far east."

This has been communicated to the powers concerned. China also has been invited to take part in the discussion relating to the far eastern problems.

MAYSVILLE DEFEATS CHAMPIONS OF SOUTHERN OHIO

Manchester Team Is Defeated Sunday
By Maysville Aggregation By
Score of 16 to 0.

Maysville defeated the strong Manchester team, which has been dubbed the Champions of Southern Ohio through their defeat of the strong Ripley team, by the shut-out score of 16 to 0 at League Park here Sunday afternoon.

In many respects it was an uninteresting game but the locals were pleased at the showing made by the three new players which Manager Rees and Captain Dreesel signed during the week. Boskens, the new pitcher, worked out fine Sunday while Cresser, the new short stop, is said to be about the fastest man seen operating between second and third on the local diamond this year. Welmer, the new center fielder, was fast and a good slugger. A new Second bagger was unable to make railroad connections Sunday but will be in the game this week.

On next Sunday the local will again combat the strong Manchester team on their home grounds and on the following Sunday will travel to Mayslick to have a game with that other strong Maysville team.

VACANCIES IN COUNTY TEACHING FORCE FILLED.

At the meeting of the Mason County Board of Education held Saturday Prof. Raymond George was elected teacher of the Lewisburg school, Prof. J. F. Huff, principal of the Orangeburg school and Prof. Bowen, of Lexington, a graduate of Transylvania, Assistant principal of the Mayslick High School. The report of Superintendent George H. Turnipseed filed with the County Board shows total receipts for educational purposes during the year of $112,000. The report is now in the hands of an expert accountant before being filed with the County Court.

The funeral of Mr. Jacob Ring, of the county, which was held Monday morning from St. Patrick's church was largely attended by relatives and friends. Burial was made in the Washington cemetery.

SEMI-PRO SERIES MAY DETERMINE STATE CHAMPION

Movement on Foot for a Championship
Series Between Strong Kentucky
Semi-Pro Clubs.

It now appears practically certain that a Kentucky semi-pro baseball championship series will be played off this summer, starting probably about the first Sunday in August. Teams of Lexington, Covington, Newport, Bellevue and Ludlow have already signified their intentions of taking part in the series, while Cynthia, Winchester, Maysville, Paris, Silver Grove, Falmouth and other towns are considered as likely members of the impromptu organization.

No very definite steps toward the arranging of the schedule have been made yet, and the destinies of the series are being guided mostly by Pat Fitchell, of Covington; John Kennedy, of Ludlow, and Pete Klein, of Bellevue. These three semi-pro managers have fostered the idea until it now appears that the series is going over big.

Jess Morton and Howard Turner, manager of the Lexington Reos, have signified their intention of going into the series, with the understanding that all the Sunday games of the Reos must be played in Lexington. This understanding is necessary for the team, as the management guaranteed at the beginning of the season at least 20 games at the local park to the holders of season tickets.

It is claimed by those who are urging the series that it will not only decide the state championship, but will create a greater interest in baseball in Kentucky, and will stimulate to some extent the organization of a state league for next year. Certainly fans would turn out better to see the best teams of the state in battle for the title than to see good teams hooked up with mediocre ones and playing uninteresting games.

It is thought that the series will be played out among eight clubs, and the first games will be played about the first Sunday in next month.

MAYOR AND POLICE JUDGE CANNOT BE COMBINED.

Opinions have been given by a number of our most prominent lawyers on the matter of combining the offices of Mayor and Police Judge which has been discussed much by members of the City Council and the lawyers are unanimous that the offices cannot be combined so that one may be elected to fill both offices at the same time. PARDON MAY NOW COME TO FRAZURE HELD FOR MURDER

Eleven Jurors Sign Petition Asking
Release of Convict Following
Woman's Talk.

Frankfort, Ky., July 11.—Efforts are being made by friends of a man named Frazure, now serving a life sentence for killing Stella Kinney, 19-year-old mountain orphan, four years ago near Grayson, Ky., to secure his release. He stated last night that 11 members of the jury which had convicted him had signed a petition for his release.

The girl was going to Carter county accompanied by Frazure, her uncle, to make her home. Next day Frazure crawled into a mountain home and declared that he and the girl had been attacked by a band of men, who killed the girl and wounded him. Slight wounds were found on Frazure, but circumstances were such that Frazure was convicted of killing his niece. He always protested his innocence and adhered to his story.

Mrs. William Collins, whose husband, William Collins, was shot to death two weeks ago has declared that her husband and Melvin Collins, a relative, killed the girl and threw away the hatchet with which the crime was committed. Following the story of Mrs. Collins and the finding of the hatchet, thorough investigation has begun to secure facts that may clear up the mystery.

DE VALERA AND LLOYD GEORGE MEET THURSDAY

Strict Watch Is Kept Although Truce
Is In Effect Today.

London, July 11.—Eamonn de Valera will come to London Thursday to discuss with Premier Lloyd George the basis of a settlement of the Irish problem. Official announcement to this effect was issued this afternoon.

Mr. Lloyd George, who spent the week-end at Chequers court with the Dominion premiers, returned to London this morning to arrange final details for his meeting with Mr. de Valera. The truce between Crown forces and the Irish Republican army became effective at noon today, but there were apprehensions that extremists on both sides of the bitter controversy in Erin would be hard to control. Yesterday's rioting in Belfast, during which at least 15 persons were killed and nearly 100 injured, aroused grave fears over incidents which might happen tomorrow, the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

WILL PROBATED

In the Mason county court Monday afternoon a paper bearing date of December 23rd, 1920, and purporting to be the last will and testament of Frank A. KABER'S NURSE WILL TAKE THE WITNESS STAND

State Hopes To Finish Its Evidence
Today or Tuesday in Celebrated Case.

Cleveland, July 11.—Floyd Utterback, nurse, who was attending Daniel F. Kaber at the time the invalid publisher was murdered, was expected to take the stand today in the trial of Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber to tell of events on the night of the stabbing.

"The important things we expect Utterback to bring out is that from the first Kaber accused his wife of having had him stabbed and also that the house had been placed in topsy-turvy condition to make it appear burglars had committed the deed." Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said today.

Utterback notified authorities he would be on hand today.

Testimony of Mrs. Emma Colavito, who accused Mrs. Kaber of agreeing to pay two assassins $5,000 to kill her husband, was to be attacked today by Mrs. Kaber's attorneys.

Defense attorneys also were planning to renew their fight to prevent testimony given by Detective Phil Mooney when the jury was excused Saturday from being repeated in its presence today.

Mooney testified to Mrs. Kaber's partial confession shortly after she had been brought back from New York. In this confession she admitted hiring men to beat up her husband. Her attorneys object to this evidence on the ground that Mrs. Kaber already had pleaded not guilty to a murder indictment, and therefore could not be expected to say anything that would hurt her case later on.

The state expected to conclude its testimony today or Tuesday. It is planned to use about 12 witnesses in addition to medical experts who will testify as to Mrs. Kaber's mental condition.

BUILT BETTER!

Lasts Longer

Costs Less to Operate

Is this a time to be letting up on the efficiency of farming? A thousand times No! That would be yielding to a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy.

Yield is the big thing today. A certain yield from the land must first pay the fixed expenses—such an investment in land, interest, taxes, or rent, depreciation on equipment, etc.—to break even. For profit, the yield must go higher.

There comes the mission of good, reliable, time-saving machinery—the kind that's built better, lasts longer, and costs less to operate. That's the kind of

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

THE WINNING PUNCH.

In retrospect "the greatest fight of the century" appears as a mere incident in the career of Mr. Jack Dempsey. M. Carpentier will not think us discourteous if we intimate that he was out-classed. He will no doubt agree that there was a miscalculation somewhere. The great secret regarding the challenger that had been so well kept came out shortly after the gong sounded, and may be explained in terms of relativity. The pleasing visitor is a splendid fighter, with lots of speed and skill, but Dempsey has the punch!

The affair in the New Jersey arena will be described in some detail elsewhere. As a matter of fact, it may be overdescribed, for the simple truth is that the outcome of the meeting was rather more conclusive than satisfying. Readers will be advised that never before has there been a bigger punch in a greater hurry than that delivered yesterday. M. Carpentier was supposed to be quick on his feet, but we gather that he moved in the wrong direction. We are sorry for Mme. Carpentier and little Jacqueline, but understand that Jack did it for his mother. And those pro-Carpentier fans, especially the ladies, who were influenced by the challenger's "nice" face, made the mistake of forming judgment before Dempsey's fist landed on the French idol's classic profile.

We take no stock in the notion that this ring battle had special symbolic significance. It was not a contest between the Old World and the New, between the modern feminism and the old masculine order. It did not epitomize a clash between intelligence and brute force. It was merely a highly profitable commercial venture, in which two badly matched men gave a brief exhibition with an inevitable result. M. Carpentier, brave soldier and game fighter, did his best, but to no avail. Jack had the answer to the Parisian mystery in his mighty wallop. And there is a certain satisfaction in getting it over with before the Fourth. Having made peace with Germany and cinched our hold on the heavy-weight championship, we should have enjoyed the day in serene quietude.—Brooklyn Eagle.

WELCOME, DR. GUITTARD.

Maysville has a new Health Officer in Dr. V. D. Guittard who came on this week to assume his duties. The entire city extends to him a most cordial welcome. We hope his stay among us will be pleasant and that he may do much good.

Maysville feels somewhat neglected in its Health Department for the past few months although one of our own physicians and, by the way, a mighty good Health Officer, has been on the job to look after emergency cases. His regular practice, however, has prevented him from going into the smaller things of the Health Department, which in many cases prove to be the bigger things.

Maysville and Mason county have been taught by both State and Federal health authorities to be proud of their health department but we are frank, Dr. Guittard, to say the Public Ledger has not been proud of the fact that Mason county has been at the bottom of the list of organized county departments for the past several months. We'll help you switch ends, Doctor.

WATER COMPANY'S LEAK PATCHED.

A house divided against itself cannot stand, is age old but always true.

From the turn the suit for a receiver for the Maysville Water Company took Friday afternoon, it appears that the trouble between the stockholders of that public service corporation has been straightened out and it appears that the people of Maysville, who for years have been at the mercy of the corporation, may profit by the little legal puncture which many thought might prove to be a blow-out.

It is to be hoped that this suit and its peaceful settlement may bring the stockholders of the company and all those interested closer together and that they be enabled to iron out their differences and at the same time patch all the leaks in their financial mains so that for which the patrons pay most liberally and that which they have failed to receive—SERVICE—may be given.

WHY NOT USE THAT FLUSH CART?

It hasn't been many years ago that Maysville purchased a brand, splinter new flush cart for which the tax payers paid the sum of twelve hundred dollars but it hasn't been on the job much recently.

Wouldn't it be somewhat of a relief from the severe warm weather for that flush cart to sprinkle the paved streets of the city two or three nights each week during the hot spell?

Why not make the $1200 flush cart useful?

It's a long lane that has no turning but who would have thought that in the short space of a few years "Maysville Murder Juice" would cease to flow and Fleming County Murder Juice would burst forth in such volume and especially in the good old Muses Mills precinct. Reports are even to the effect that they are stealing each others' stills in good old Fleming.

The Ruggles Campmeeting Board has the splendid faculty of always selecting the time for meeting when "friers" are the ripest. We fear for the campers, however, this year as the advance guard of rattle snake slayers has never done its duty as yet.

William Jennings Bryan will speak at the West Union Chautauqua on August 1st. Members of the "I'm So Dry" Club will probably arrange an excursion for that date to the Adams county capital.

Doctor George Devine has the thanks of the Market street Labor Union for installing a most graceful spray on the fountain.

Some who are so very anxious to learn golf will soon find that its a game in which play is something like work.

All entries are now made in the August derby and the next few weeks promises to be most interesting in politics.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington. — "The resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor favoring government ownership and democratic operation of the railroads is nothing more than the Plumb Plan, and is a step toward socialism and ultimate bolshevism," asserts the Republican Publicity Association. "The proponents of the Plumb Plan have never faltered for a moment in their purpose to compel the government to buy the railroads and turn them over to a commission controlled by the railroads employees to operate. They have been a little more quiet in their agitation and have kept more from public view, but they have not changed their principles in the least. They want the transportation system of the country controlled by one class of citizens, which control will inevitably place the people of the country at the mercy of that one class."

"The resolution favoring government ownership and 'democratic control' was proposed by John L. Lewis, a candidate for the presidency of the A. F. of L. in opposition to Mr. Gompers, and the adoption of the resolution was construed to be a victory for Mr. Lewis, but, in view of the fact that Mr. Gompers is a member of the Plumb Plan League, it is difficult to see wherein there was even a temporary victory for Lewis over Gompers. The adoption of the resolution merely shows that the entire Federation is now pledged to the movement heretofore sponsored by its leaders only."

"The farmers of the country have repeatedly gone on record in opposition to government ownership, particularly since the proposal for government ownership has been coupled up with a demand that control of the roads be placed in the hands of the employees. There would be no more business sense in government ownership of the railroads with control by the employees than there would be in government ownership of the farm lands of the country with operation by the hired hands, who would fix their own wages and hours of labor."

"It is perhaps well that the Federation has adopted this resolution, for it presents the issue in a direct, tangible and unavoidable form. There is now a highly organized fight in progress to force the government to borrow money to buy the railroads and adopt a system of management that would be even worse than the deplorable one now in operation."

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

able system put in force by Mr. McAdoo. Where Mr. McAdoo adopted a few regulations reducing hours of labor and increasing wages, the employees' management would adopt many. Where Mr. McAdoo paid for a few classes of services never rendered, the employees' management would make that a universal practice. And the rest of the people of the country would pay the bill, as they are now paying for the exaravagance, waste and folly of the McAdoo regime.

"The fight is on, and it is up to the people of the country to take sides and make their opinions known in no uncertain terms."

New York. — An average of one new play every other day was produced in New York this past season; 157 in all, which is seven more than were put on the year before. The season is counted as over, now, although there will undoubtedly be a few more revues in town during July. Then as early as August, the new season will begin, as against the September and October openings of former times.

The newest surf sport — at beaches hereabouts, is coursing the waves on horse back. Members of a Brooklyn women's riding club started it out at Brighton and the novelty has spread to other nearby resorts. It takes a well-trained horse and a pretty good rider to go in for this form of surfing on the really surf-rolled beaches. The steeds fail to seem very enthusiastic about it, no matter how good their training is.

The fetching Julia Sanderson will be back again on Broadway in another four or five weeks under new direction. She will be starred in "Tangerine," a musical comedy with words by Guy Bolton which mean REAL comedy — the kind you laugh at! Carle Carlton is the producer.

The only woman bird surgeon in the world is Miss Virginia Pope of New York. Miss Pope treats everything from bird croup to a bird's broken leg and she goes out at any time of night to attend her patients just as any other physician does. She is also a bird-boarding-house keeper, taking care of canaries and other pets whose families are out of town or need a rest from song. Just now there are 700 birds in her care and her life is a merry one in consequence. A good many of the 700 she expects to have with her the rest of their lives. People get tired of them and bring them to Miss Pope and then forget to call for them. Of course, that isn't what might be called profitable for the bird-surgeon, but she takes just as good care of them as she does her "paying guests." Her fondest hope is to have a large bird hospital with plenty of room and equipment. Three floors and a basement get crowded sometimes now.

If "Whirl of Broadway," which opened at the Times Square Theater the other night, had been content to be simply a "revue" as it was advertised, it would still have it considerably over other summer revues because of the galaxy of honest-to-goodness stars — and peppy ones! — which disport themselves throughout it. But it wasn't content; it introduced three of the most original acts which have been seen in a Broadway musical show in many a day. Blanche Ring and Richard Carle in a "operetta" — complete in themselves; Richard Carle, Winona Winters the versatile Jay Gould and Charles Winninger, in an income tax and passport sketch; and the same quartet in a motion picture studio act. Blanche Ring back on Broadway was an even in itself, and she had to sing "Rings on My Fingers" and "Yip-I-Ady-I-Aye," before they would let her go. I have never seen Charles Winninger when he was funnier and Richard Carle was — Richard Carle! The girl stunts were truly clever, too, not just a sop to the legendary t.b.m., and some of the scenic effects, lovely. Altogether it's the kind of show which seems to be an equal amount of fun for the audience, cast and chorus, and it will be a pleasant thing to have in our midst this summer.

The number of persons who annually use the subway entrances in Forty-second street is greater by 34,000 than the total population of the United States, according to figures compiled by Louis Saxby, traction expert for the Public Service Commission. That means about 144,000,000 who duck down the stairs into the roaring tunnel every year — mostly just to go home or to work!

College men are in demand as beach life guards at one of the pavilions of the Jersey coast, because the manager has discovered that a life guard and tutor in one is a great combination. "High school boys, admiring the brawn of the guard, are willing to take orders from him for their studies, too," said the pavilion manager. "A lot of mothers are delighted to discover an arrangement which makes possible having their boys get away to the ocean and at the same time bone for college. Of course all the work is done on the beach so the guard can be at hand if needed."

FEDERAL INSURANCE GOES TO THE HEIRS OF THE DECEASED.

Federal Judge Gives First Decision On War Risk Insurance Case.

War Risk Insurance, that is, term or contract insurance, issued by the Government as a war-time measure under the provisions of the War Risk Act, is payable to the beneficiary designated by the insured, but, should this beneficiary die the installments of insurance become payable after his death shall be distributed in like manner as the estate of the insured, descending to the soldier's heirs and not to the heirs of the beneficiary no matter whether a will may have been executed by that beneficiary to the contrary.

This is the substance of the decision handed down by Federal Judge Whitman in the case of Casserello vs. United States recently tried in the District Court of the United States, Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Lawrence Seigie, while in service in the United States Army, applied for $10,000 insurance designating as beneficiary "stepbrother Patsy Gillette."

The insured died October 29, 1918. A question as to the identity of the beneficiary arose, he having been known as Patsy Gillette, Patrick Gillette, Patrick Chilton and other variations of the original Italian name.

Before it had been established that the designated beneficiary was a full brother of the insured soldier, the beneficiary died. He left a will naming Savino Casserello as executor of his estate, empowered to collect the War Risk Insurance installments which had accrued, as well as those which should become due and to transmit these future installments to the beneficiary's wife and daughter.

To effect this the executor brought action against the United States.

As to the installments which had accrued prior to the beneficiary's death and remaining unpaid at that time, there was no dispute. They passed according to the beneficiary's will as they were already due to the beneficiary's estate. The contest had to do with the installments not yet payable when the beneficiary died and it was claimed by the executor that these also were a part of the beneficiary's estate.

The Court, however, decided, and thereby upheld an opinion of the General Counsel of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, that a beneficiary under the War Risk Act is entitled to insurance installments only so long as he lives and that thereafter the insurance installments must be distributed to those persons surviving the soldier who would be entitled to the soldier's estate under the laws of intestacy of the soldier's state of residence.

POTATO PRODUCTION IN THE SOUTH.

The importance of the potato crop in the South is due to its market value rather than its magnitude, for owing to the season in which it is harvested it commands a better price, usually, than the late crop in the North. The wide divergence of seasonal conditions in the South, coupled with a long-growing season, makes it possible to plant and harvest potatoes in some localities practically every month in the year.

Owing to varying climatic conditions, due to both latitude and altitude, there are three distinct potato-crop seasons in the Southern States. These are the early or truck crop, the late or main crop, and the fall crop, which last may be divided into a second and a fall crop proper. The early or truck crop is confined largely to well-defined production centers. Because practically all the early crop is marketed direct from the field when it is in more or less immature condition, the question of packages and of shipping facilities is important. This subject, and others of interest and value to southern potato growers, are discussed in Farmers' Bulletin 1205, entitled Potato Production in the South, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. This Bulletin may be obtained free upon application to the Division of Publications.

YOUNG COUPLE ARRESTED AFTER FINDING OF BABE.

Murray. — A sequel to the finding of a boy's body in a weed patch here came in the arrest of Miss Lola Smith on a charge of having concealed the death of a child, and of Madison Stubbinsfield, 21, on a charge of reduction. Miss Smith admitted that the child had been born to her and accused Stubbinsfield, according to officers' statements. They were released on bond. The inquest developed that no violence had come to the infant, and its death was attributed to the fact that the mother had neither doctor nor nurse.

MOVIE SATR TO WED FORMER KENTUCKIAN

Paris, Ky., July 11. — Perhaps no screen star of the present era has a larger list of admirers than Mary Miles Minter, known wherever motion pictures are shown as "the Darling of the Screen," but it remained for a son of a former Paris, Ky., man to win her heart and hand.

The announcement of their engagement has recently been made through a letter received recently in Paris. The lucky young man is Orville Erringer, of Portland, Oregon, son of Clarence Erringer, of Chicago, and grandson of Theodore Erringer, for many years agent in Paris for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and manager of the Paris branch of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The groom-to-be is the northwestern manager for a large fruit packing corporation of California. His headquarters are in Portland.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT DROWNED IN RIVER.

Swept off her feet by the current, which carried her out to midstream and down the river before her friends could reach her, Miss Margaret Donnelly, 20 years old, a Cincinnati university student was drowned about noon Sunday at a point on the Ohio River known as "Eight Mile," a short distance above Coney Island.

Miss Donnelly was one of a party of nine — four young couples and a chaperon—who motored out from Cincinnati to spend the day in the country. After they had found a suitable place for picnicking they went into the water and Miss Donnelly, who could not swim, was wading with the others in the shallow water near the shore when she got out beyond her depth and was caught by the current, which quickly carried her out into the river.

HIRED GIRL UNMOVED BY $3,000,000 GIFT.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 11. — Leona Sygret, 35 years old, a pantry maid, did not show emotion when informed that she will receive $3,000,000 from the estate of the late Lord Aberdeen, England.

"I have been expecting something from the estate. It has been in the hands of adjusters for four years. I couldn't live on expectations," she said. The heiress, who has been employed at Whittle Springs Hotel, three miles from here, will go to New York this week for a consultation with attorneys.

The First Presbyterian school reports two additions from the school to the church Sunday.
The hot weather seems to have no terror for those Lewisburg Baptists. With an attendance of 224 they take the lead of the whole county, including Maysville. They sure have the Sunday school "pep" in good shape out there. Here's luck to them. Good hard work will bring results any time, anywhere and at any place. Other schools might profit wonderfully by the example of this live school.

As a result of a revival the Christian church at Sardis has been made a living institution in that town. They report 122 members to start with and a move on foot to build a church. A fine Sunday school is a part of the organization as will be noted in the attendance column.

This is proving a banner year for our county Sunday schools. Despite the extremely hot weather the attendance keeps up splendidly and with the exception of a few schools they are giving the public the benefit of seeing what they are doing.

As the date for the county convention nears every school should be laying plans to send a good sized delegation. The date is Friday, the 22nd, and the place is the Lawrence Creek Christian church. The place is easy to get to being situated on the Germantown pike four miles from Maysville. Word has been received that Mr. W. J. Vaughn of the state association field force will be present. The county committee will have the full program ready for publication in a few days. Watch for it and prepare to attend. Campmeeting season will soon be upon us. Naturally Maysville and Mason county people are more interested in Ruggles Campmeeting on account of its nearness, and because of many of its directors being of our citizens. The campmeeting has gotten out a very attractive little booklet advertising the campmeeting which can be had by applying to J. H. Richardson, publicity man for the campmeeting. This booklet has several pages of campmeeting views which makes it a very neat souvenir of the campground.

BABY BRESLIN.
Mr. and Mrs. John Breslin, of the East End, are the proud parents of a fine baby boy born Saturday afternoon.

FOR many a happy hour will the old folks sit and listen to the new Victrola, as it sings for them once again the tender and affecting songs of other days. The young folks will love it too—for it will awaken and stimulate them with all that is best in the music of today and tomorrow.
